A technical line drawing of a corner joint assembly, likely for a window or door frame. The drawing shows two vertical frames meeting at a 90-degree corner. Callout '2' is used to identify the vertical frame components on both the left and right sides, with three circles highlighting specific points. Callout '3' is used to identify the horizontal frame components at the top and bottom of the corner, with two circles highlighting specific points. The drawing is a perspective view showing the depth of the frames.
